Practical Implant Treatments for the General Practitioner

As dental implants become a more widely accepted form of treatment, the patient’s knowledge and expectations are increasing. Implant dentistry has evolved over the past few years to accommodate the increasing esthetic demands. This lecture will cover new products and procedures that are available for the restorative doctor, and treatment options concentrating on solid abutments.

At the completion of this course, participants will be able to:

• Have a better understanding of the prosthetic components and restorative procedures.
• Understand the implant options for tooth replacement, including solutions for esthetics.
• Be able to decide the appropriate avenue in restoring individual cases to achieve optimal results.
